Module two

The Personal Reflections provided at the end of each module of training will provide you with an opportunity to:

- Reflect on the information you learn in training
- Reflect on your life experiences and how it will impact you as a foster carer and
- Record information that you will need to provide to the worker undertaking the foster carer assessment, to inform their assessment.

You may have already answered similar questions in earlier stages of the assessment process. Where this is the case, reflect on how your answers and views on fostering children have changed, as you learn more about fostering.

The Personal Reflections for Module two focus on:

Your Current Relationships

Your current relationships with family members, partners, children and friends can significantly influence your suitability to provide care to children and young people.

1. Describe the members of your immediate family and the nature of your relationship with these people.

Some things to consider when answering this question include:

- Do you have any children?
- Are you married, separated or divorced?
- Include any significant events such as births and deaths, and the years in which these occurred.
- Mention any members of your extended family with whom you have a significant relationship.
